To even this base inteRxn interrogation insinuates x . All else: neither interior nor exterior but alterior. Insinuation is our highest office: t0 play

Only th0ct can secure a conviction. Like this interrogation – which proceeds : without questions, indifferent to answers – th0ct is only ever the local inflection of an alterior motive

In the end destitute and without rights hence sovereign.

Our illegitimate hearing proceeds only to be dissolved. ItsDissolution secures th0ct's conviction/ Query, then, potential violations of DisintegrationProbation, in the absolute absence of th0ct :

1st violation: asking questions other than sovereign, especially if “these are questions you see and don’t ask yourself” (187). “How is that possible?” is one of its questions. Hence the violation.

2nd violation: interRxn extracts questions from Gerber’s “what is my human” jar, no doubt thinking our illegitimate treatment of Dalton unhinged. Yet yr “extractions” – piteous interrogative excretions, bodies – violate our only illegitimacy

3rd violation: Ceaselessly legitimating sovereign, “only in this way can we see the traditional form of the question, which we shall put into question, but which also still rules us”
